

DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN ANATOMY
INVITES STUDENTS OF THE 1ST - 5TH YEAR

to participate in scientific and practical activities of Student science club

It will be interesting

The first meeting

Tuesday 29 September from 16-30 to 17-00

on the 1st floor of the Department of Human Anatomy

The main areas of researches:

1. Traditional scientific direction of the department: " Comparative perspectives of prenatal morphogenesis of the digestive, respiratory, urinary and musculoskeletal systems in embryogenesis"
2. Clinical (surgical) and functional anatomy of the pelvis and pelvic organs
3. The role of ultrasound research in the anatomy studies and its usage in experimental medicine, planning of diagnostic and surgical procedures.
4. Features of the vascular anatomy in the pathogenesis (development) of artery diseases.

Be healthy and engaged in science